The Joe Perez Prize in Mathematics & Science

Joe Perez was a deeply talented mathematician and teacher at AMSA. He was a member of the Schroedinger Institute in Vienna, Austria, when he passed away from a brain tumor. After his untimely death, mathematics colleagues Mikhail Shubin, Alex Suciuan, and Thomas Azeredo created and primarily funded an award in his memory. The Joe Perez Prize in Mathematics & Science need not be given every year and is based on faculty members' choice of a student who shows extraordinary creative promise in both mathematics and at least one field of science.

The Joe Perez Prize in Mathematics & Science.....Mr. Tom Azeredo
